

THROUGH MIDNIGHT

What is midnight? No way to go
Forward. Hard and tight
I could not move an inch
Forward or back. Impossible!
I could not even breathe
Darkness alone does not make
Midnight... through the tears,
And the fears I stayed up all night
Alone and lonely, till I hit the wall...
Darkness encircled me
    The waves swallowed me
    The shadows covered me
    The abyss engulfed me
    And I thought I am dead
    It is over. I am no more.
    But suddenly, I was there
    Yes, suddenly, it all went quiet
Was I not there before? Was I not?
Who is this, or it? He? She? I don't know
It did not matter. I just passed through Midnight and I was no more alone!
With me, next to me, behind me, inside me,
Around me, embracing me, everywhere!
    Whoever it might be was there
    Like the fond arms of my mother
    Like the steady hand of my father
    With me, holding me. Comforting me
    I was filled with peace
    Peace that passes understanding
I had survived Midnight
It was all behind me
And it has passed
I was afraid no more
I knew the worst was over
There was nothing to fear

G. E. Gorfu
May 4, 2010